

Savour the finest Swiss chocolate this Easter with Geneva Tourism

London, 15 March 2023: This Easter, Geneva Tourism invites you to indulge in a tasting tour of Switzerland's globally renowned chocolate with the Choco Pass before stepping into the shoes of a Master Chocolatier at La Maison Du Rhône's exclusive Chocolate Workshop.

What better way to celebrate every chocolate lover's favourite holiday than by exploring some of Switzerland's oldest and most luxurious chocolate makers? The Choco Pass gives you the chance to do just that, embarking on a fully customisable chocolate-tasting tour around Geneva's top artisans. From Sweetzerland's famous truffles to La Bonbonnière's indulgent hot chocolate, you will enjoy some of the world's most delicious chocolate as you taste your way around Europe's leading city break destination. Just think of it as the ultimate Easter egg hunt, but instead of eggs, you'll be delighting in a unique chocolate creation at each and every stop!

Further immerse yourself in the world of chocolate as you discover the techniques of Geneva's expert gourmet chocolatiers, and try your hand at perfecting the craftsmanship behind everyone's favourite sweet treat. La Maison Du Rhône welcomes you into their production laboratory to witness the generational traditions of the luxury chocolate craft. Unleash your artistic flair and impress your friends with your very own creation as you uncover the secrets that make Switzerland the chocolate capital of the world.

The Choco Pass (GBP £27 per adult/GBP £6 per child) activates for 24 hours from your first tasting, and is valid for a year from the point of purchase. Du Rhône's workshops are held at 3pm from Monday to Friday, and are available to purchase for GBP £54 per adult.

These are the perfect experiences to get you excited for Easter, so don't miss your chance to get booked in now!
