

Take your rail escape to the next level with Geneva Tourism

London, 01 March 2023: As a cultural hotspot and Europe's leading city break destination, Geneva is the perfect location for those looking for a 'fly-light' option this year. Set off on the European trip of a lifetime, and take in the captivating scenery of the continent as you make your way toward Geneva and its wealth of experiences.

Getting to Geneva by train

With sustainability at the forefront of everyone's mind, there has never been a better time to start considering travel by train, and Geneva is the perfect destination to get started on that journey. For those travelling from London, the journey takes you on the Eurostar from London St Pancras to Paris, where you then change trains and begin your tour through the countryside to Geneva, with a total journey time of around 5-and-a-half hours.

If you have opted to explore the European continent with Interrail, then Geneva should be top of your hit list. Whether you choose a Europe-wide Interrail Pass or you decide to stick with the Interrail Switzerland Pass to really get stuck into the countries' charming and diverse cities with breath-taking mountain ranges, and crystal clear lakes, Geneva will be waiting to welcome you with open arms. Climb on board, sit back and enjoy your front row seat to the dramatic landscapes that Switzerland has to offer.

Making the most of your time in Geneva

Once your train has made its arrival into Geneva, prepare to be delighted by the world-class activities and dining experiences that can be found in this beautiful city.

Kick off your break in style with a relaxing day at the Bain-Bleu Hammam & Spa, which offers the perfect setting to unwind after your train journey. Take a dip in one of their pools or refresh yourself with an indulgent steam bath, before treating yourself to a rejuvenating massage that will be sure to leave you feeling refreshed and ready to enjoy all that Geneva has to offer.

After spending a few hours in the revitalising spa, it's time to head out and explore some of the city's incredible restaurants. Geneva is home to a wide variety of incredible cuisine, and with no less than twelve Michelin-starred establishments, it really is something of a foodie hotspot. Whether you opt for the cosy and traditional atmosphere of Les Armures and its delicious Swiss fondue, or the glamorous Michelin-starred Chinese restaurant Tsé Fung, there is a restaurant to suit all tastes.

Of course, one of Geneva's greatest attractions is the iconic Lake Geneva, and there are plenty of activities for all. From gourmet experiences on board a motorboat to fishing on the lake, there's a waterside activity for everyone to get involved in. Another fantastic way of enjoying the lake is by taking the 3km path that runs alongside it, allowing you to take in the serenity of the water as you stroll along its shores.
